LUDENDORFF, GERMAN HERO, ASKS RETURN OF EX-KAISER

Former Field Marshal Suggests "Quiet Retirement."

BERLIN DEMAND

One-time Emperor Will Be 70 on Sunday.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Gen. Erich Ludendorff, one of Germany's foremost military leaders in the great war, today demanded the return of the ex-kaiser to Germany.

Gen. Ludendorff was quartermaster general of the German army and chief of staff to Field Marshal von Hindenburg in wartime.

The "demand" was contained in an article that covered the entire front page of the weekly publication "Deutsche Wochenschau." It proposed that the former kaiser be allowed to return from exile in Holland where "he is really a prisoner of a foreign power." This detention, Ludendorff declared, is "to the shame of German honor and decency."

William Nears 70th Birthday. Gen. Ludendorff said, that, if the ex-kaiser is allowed to return to the fatherland, he (Ludendorff) expects him to "live in quiet retirement in Germany."

Gen. Ludendorff attacks President von Hindenburg for signing the banishment law and for being really responsible for "the German army officers' revolution" at Spa, which sent William into exile.

The former kaiser will celebrate his 70th birthday on Sunday at his home in Doorn. He has planned an extensive observance and invited many men who were powerful German political and military personages in the days of the empire.

It had been anticipated that the militarist-monarchist faction would take advantage of the occasion to enliven their campaign for the return of the former emperor.

Monarchist Active. The Steel Helmet League, a militarist-monarchist organization, has suggested that a national referendum be held to determine whether Germany shall continue as a republic or shall return to the monarchial form of government.

Among the visitors to Doorn to carry birthday felicitations is Field Marshal von Mackensen, a famous army leader, who represented the officers of the old imperial army.

William fled from Germany to Holland in November, 1918, after the collapse of the German army on the western battle front.

The John D. Lease.
Good Business Mileage.
Another Canal Needed.
The Dead Really Talk.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.

FANCY "realtors" and plain real estate men will read with interest of a lease signed by John D. Rockefeller, jr., as tenant, Columbia university as landlord. To provide three blocks of New York real estate for an opera house site and a fine commercial development in the heart of the city, the Rockefeller lease will pay to Columbia a total of $261,000,000 in 87 years. That land sold, about 100 years ago, for less than $10,000.

Select your real estate CAREFULLY, but GET SOME.

The value of a machine depends on the length of its working life. Uncle Sam is fortunate in the last qualities and working determination of business men that build the country.

NEW YORK merchants gave a dinner to Col. Michael Friedsam, who has finished 50 years of work as head of one of the biggest commercial institutions in America. Asked when he expected to retire, Col. Friedsam replied: "When they carry me out."

John D. Rockefeller, within a few months of 90, will stop, with his machine in the air, to tell you, "Mr. Kingsbury, head of Standard Oil of California, is a very able man." He has given away hundreds of millions and is still working, although his son carries most of the load.

American business men possess extraordinary "mileage."

Hoover Made Great Hit in South America, Irwin Tells C. of C.

C. OF C. SPEAKER

Will H. Irwin, newspaper correspondent, magazine writer and novelist, discussed President-elect Herbert Hoover's recent good-will mission to South America at the thirteenth annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce in the main dining room of the Travelers' hotel last night.

GASOLINE COST CUT ONE CENT

Three Companies Retail At 17 to 20 Cents Gallon.

Three East Liverpool gasoline companies announced price reductions of one cent a gallon today. Retail prices range from 17 to 20 cents.

The Standard and Freedom Oil companies cut the price from 20 to 19 cents, while the Midway Oil company reduced its price from 19 to 18 cents.

No reduction of the 20-cent rate had been announced by the Ohio Valley Oil company or the 18-cent price charged by the Pennsylvanian Oil & Gas company. The Peter Milliron station in Second street has a 17-cent rate.

11 ARE NABBED IN LIQUOR DRIVE

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Jan. 25.—Eleven persons are under arrest here today as the result of a liquor drive which was conducted by state and county prohibition agents last night.

The raids instituted an extensive campaign which will be carried on indefinitely throughout the county.

Liquor was found in five public places which were searched. Two third-offense charges were filed. The defendants will be arraigned tonight.

One hundred gallons of whisky, 125 gallons of wine and 200 gallons of beer were confiscated.

NO ACCIDENTS ON ICY STREETS

No accidents as a result of the ice-coated sidewalks and streets had been reported here up until noon today.

Rain, which immediately froze, made travel afoot and in automobiles extremely dangerous last night. Except for the hillside streets, most of the ice disappeared during the night.

No fall cases were reported at the City hospital, and garages maintaining wreck services had received no calls for help.

Air Mail Line and Pan-American Highway Will Result From Good Will Trip, Novelist Says.

PLACE FOR YOUNG MAN, HE THINKS

W. E. Wells Introduces War Correspondent at Thirteenth Annual Dinner in Travelers' Hotel.

Declaring Herbert Hoover "made a great hit in South America," Will H. Irwin, New York, termed "the ace of war correspondents," predicted two important results from the president-elect's recent good-will tour, at the thirteenth annual Chamber of Commerce banquet in the Travelers' hotel last night.

They were:
1—Establishment of an air mail line connecting the United States and South America.
2—A Pan-American highway.

225 Hear Address.

Irwin held 225 guests spell-bound for an hour and a quarter while he described Hoover's trip to the neighboring continent. Possibilities of the industrial development which countries of South America hold for the future were also discussed by the speaker.

President Joseph Betz of the chamber presided. The tables in the hotel dining room were set in the dinner service set, presented the chamber a year ago through the efforts of W. E. Wells, secretary-treasurer of the Homer Laughlin China company and national councillor of the Chamber of Commerce.

Table decorations furnished by the John Kell company included roses, tulips, buddleia, gladioli and carnations. The smaller tables were decorated with potted tulips and cineraria. Members of the board of directors, their wives and other honor guests were seated at the speaker's table.

Wells introduces Irwin. The Rev. Father John L. Maurer, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic church, pronounced the invocation. Two solos were sung by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran, with Mrs. Bertha Cochran as the accompanist. Music during the dinner was in charge of the Cochran orchestra.

Greetings were extended by President Betz who expressed regret over the delay in the issuance of the annual report of the chamber, due to illness in the chamber's office staff. W. E. Wells, who was then presented, was introduced as a man marked by (Continued on page 10, column 2)

SEA HERO WHO RESCUED 32 MEN ON ITALIAN FREIGHTER

George Fried of the America, as he appeared some years ago being congratulated with his wife by Governor Moore of New Jersey for heroic mid-ocean rescue of British freighter.

Two Grateful Nations Will Honor Captain George Fried

Medals of Honor Will be Presented to Heroic Crew of Liner America Who Saved Italian Seamen.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Two grateful nations today sped preparations to heap honors upon Captain George Fried and the crew of the liner America for their heroic feat in rescuing 32 men from the sinking Italian freighter some 700 miles off the Virginia coast Wednesday night.

Medals of honor undoubtedly will be presented to the heroes by the United States and Italian government. Meanwhile New York, the port to which the America is steaming and on the home of the three men who played outstanding roles in the sea drama, is determined to give the heroes a welcome that will be the last word in enthusiasm.

Plan Great Welcome. It is expected that the welcome will surpass that given to Captain Fried three years ago in recognition of his feat in saving the crew of the British freighter Antiope in mid-Atlantic. An escort of ships up the harbor, with every harbor craft's siren shrieking and airplanes dropping overhead, a parade from the Battery up Broadway in a shower of ticker tape and presentation of medals at city hall are in prospect for the conquerors of the grim Atlantic.

Captain Fried's courage, skill and determination are exceeded by his modesty and shyness, but the city has its heart set on giving the doughty little skipper and his companions a royal reception whether they like it or not.

Congress Will Act. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Early action is expected in congress on the resolution of Representative Black (D.) of New York to award medals to Captain George Fried and members of his crew who rescued 32 men from the Italian freighter Florida.

Enthusiastic applause greeted the resolution and a speech in the house by Representative Gibson (R.) of Vermont, lauding the rescuers.

The resolution not only authorizes the secretary of the treasury to strike off suitable gold medals but expresses the "thanks and appreciation" for the crew's "heroic and noble conduct."

One of the medals would go to Fried and to each of such persons as are certified by him to have shown special courage in the rescue.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Grover A. Whalen, New York's debonair police commissioner, will play a double role in tomorrow's installment of the perennial drama of Metropolitan events.

He will go down the bay in the municipal tug, Macom, to greet Capt. George Fried and his gallant crew of the rescue ship, America, not only as head of the "finest" but also as chief of Mayor Walker's reception committee.

Whalen has been the mayor's greeter of incoming notables for a number of years.

The announcement of Underwood's death was made by Senator Hefflin (D.) of Alabama, his former colleague, his request being seconded by Senator Curtis (R.) of Kansas, the majority leader.

Underwood's former colleagues were shocked by his death. They lamented his passing and praised his career as a statesman.

MRS. J. M. ATEN DIES; AGED 87

Funeral Services Will Be Held Here Monday.

Mrs. Adaline Gaston Aten, 87, widow, of John H. Aten, died today in her home, 301 Jefferson street, after a month's illness of pneumonia.

Mrs. Aten was born on a farm near Clarkson, a daughter of the late James W. and Rebecca Gaston Aten, longer than any other member. She attended the Steubenville Seminary for Women. In 1863 she was married to John Morrow Aten, who for many years owned the Aten gardens in West End.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian church for 75 years, her name having been on the church roll longer than another member. She was a charter member of the Women's Crusade Union of the W. C. T. U. and the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. W. T. Wilson; one brother, James C. Gaston, East Liverpool; five grandchildren, Adeline Elden, at home; Attorney John A. Elden, Cleveland; Walter Bulger, East Liverpool; Dr. Harold A. Bulger and Janet Bulger, St. Louis, Mo., and two great grandchildren, Barbe and Jane Bulger, East Liverpool, and Betty Jane Elden, Cleveland. Two other daughters, Mrs. Enoch Elden and Mrs. Allie Bulger preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held in the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. J. H. Lawther, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. John M. Gaston of Pittsburgh. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

A violent quarrel ensued. Later, after two roomers in the house had left, the tragedy was enacted.

The victim of her husband's terrible revenge lay in City hospital today, one of her children dead, the other believed dying. Her life is not in danger, physicians said, but there is little hope that her eyes will heal to any extent.

Woman Feared Husband. Mrs. Thomas told police that she and her husband were married Nov. 16, 1922, at Lorain.

She denied that she had been unfaithful and said that though she loved her husband she had come to fear him because of his jealousy. It was because of this that she decided to get a divorce, she said.

"I would have died for him or the children," the suffering woman sobbed.

Harlan E. Hall, former assistant principal of the high school, is in a serious condition today at the home of relatives in Zanesville following a second paralytic stroke. Prof. Hall resigned his position here about two years ago because of ill health.

Odor of Smoke Calls Firemen. Firemen were called to the Altman building, Fifth and Market streets, at 10:05 o'clock last night to investigate the odor of smoke which was accented by Emmett Blake, merchants' policeman.

JEALOUS MAN ALSO WOUNDS DAUGHTER IN AKRON TRAGEDY

Husband Gouges Out Eyes of Beautiful Woman.

FAMILY QUARREL

Rubber Worker Enraged By Mate's Divorce Move.

AKRON, O., Jan. 25.—A jealous husband who gouged out the eyes of his beautiful young wife, killed his four-year-old son and wounded his two-year-old daughter, died by his own hand early today as the climax of the most frightful domestic tragedy in the city's history.

Driven to a homicidal frenzy by jealousy, the husband, George Thomas, 30, a rubber worker, carried out his threat to claw out the eyes of his wife and to kill himself and his children. Thomas, and his son, Robert, are dead. Rosemond, the daughter, is expected to die from two bullet wounds in her breast. Mrs. Helen S. Thomas, 24, is expected to remain blind the rest of her life.

Maddened by the knowledge that his wife had been down town seeking witnesses for a divorce, Thomas, after a violent quarrel, threw her on the floor of their living room, savagely clawed at her eyes, scooped in her eyes with his finger-nails and gouged with his thumbs.

Hearing his mother's agonized screams, Robert, in an adjoining room, began to cry. The enraged father rushed towards the boy and fired two shots from a .25 caliber pistol, one bullet piercing the boy's heart. The wounded boy crawled from the bedroom into the living room where he huddled under his blind mother.

"I couldn't see him," the mother sobbed. "I heard his crying weaken. Then he stopped breathing and I knew my boy was dead."

Shoots Baby in Crib. Standing over the crib in which the baby girl slept, Thomas fired two shots through her left breast, then he walked into the kitchen, drank a glass of poison, returned to the living room and shot himself twice in the stomach. As he fell, he laughed and taunted his wife.

"Can you see now? I told you I'd let you live and suffer."

Police say a companion of Thomas' relates that while they were walking along the street Sunday Thomas declared he suspected his wife was unfaithful.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," he continued, according to the story. "I'm going to close those beautiful eyes of hers. Everybody says she's got beautiful eyes but I'll claw them out so she can't look on anybody else and then I'm going to kill the children and myself."

"Shadowed" Wife. Instead of going to work yesterday, according to reports, Thomas "shadowed" his wife in a taxicab and learned that she had gone to a lawyer's office and made arrangements for a divorce. When she came home last night Thomas inquired:

"Been to work today?" "Yes," she replied.

"You're a liar," the enraged husband shouted, police learned.

"Firebug" Suspected As Blaze Razes Barn

Third "Mystery Fire" in Salineville in Last Few Days Costs M. J. Lewis $3,000; Loses Farm Equipment.

WELLSVILLE, O., Jan. 25.—Salineville police authorities and citizens today entertained theories of incendiarism as a result of the third mysterious fire there in the last few days, a blaze which last night virtually wiped out a large barn owned by Mervin J. Lewis near the Lewis ball park in the Summitville road.

Lewis estimated his loss at more than $3,000, partly covered by insurance.

While saving a team of horses and two cows, even though endangering his life before the wave of flames which spread through the barn, Lewis lost several pieces of farm machinery in addition to his Buick automobile.

The fire started at 9 o'clock, Lewis was returning from town where he had been making produce deliveries when he observed the flames leaping through the roof above the loft. He hastily aroused neighbors. Lacking telephone facilities, he was delayed in turning in an alarm to the fire department.

As a result, the flames were given sufficient time to gather headway. The Lewis fire is the third in a series of mysterious blazes, others occurring at the Emmet Collins and Sam Silverman properties. In the last few days. As a result, police and home owners are visioning a possible "fire bug."

Enroute home following last night's blaze, firemen observed an unidentified man tampering with a window at the rear of the Householder garage. When the latter saw the firemen approaching, he ran, escaping in the darkness.

CHILD CAUGHT COLD; PNEUMONIA FEARED

Worried Mother Grateful as Doctor Shows How to Give Quick Relief at Home

No longer is it necessary to stand by helplessly when children's colds bring fear of pneumonia. For hospital physicians now recommend to mothers a pleasant home treatment for colds—and hundreds of East Liverpool children have been given the same quick, sure relief that came to the little daughter of Mrs. Robt. Gordon.

Little Estelle caught a severe cold while out riding. On the third day the child coughed so deep Mrs. Gordon feared pneumonia and called her doctor, who advised double doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—the pleasantly flavored mixture of wild cherry, terpin hydrate and other ingredients which have relieved even the most extreme children's cases in the hospital. By night the child felt like playing for the first time in several days. The next morning she looked more like herself—and by the following day, doctors report, all traces of the cold were gone.

Note: Other cases reported daily—all certified by the attending physician.

Ayer's Pectoral is made of ingredients as safe as the purest food—recommended for children by the foremost cold clinics. Endorsed by physicians and druggists.

COME! LET'S PLAY TOGETHER!

Recently a very eminent American, at a dinner in celebration of his fortieth year in his chosen work, spoke from a life-time experience of brilliant achievement when he said:

"People say to me, the doctors and my friends: 'You work too hard.' I say, 'No—I play a little hard perhaps my work is my play,' and it is such good sport that I love it more and more. I believe God made us so that we could love our work so much that we might play at it."

Interest in one's work is the secret of turning it into play.

Kept Vow 50 Years That He Would Not Enter Polling Place

WEST STOCKBRIDGE, Mass.—Jacob Scism, 95, died recently without having violated a 50-year vow never to enter a polling place. An ardent supporter of Tilden during the Tilden-Hayes presidential campaign, Scism held tenaciously to the belief that Tilden was cheated out of the presidency. On the day Hayes was given his certificate of election, Scism made his vow.

Coasting Restrictions

With the automobile death toll, not to mention the number of injured in traffic accidents, mounting, the police department has exercised good judgment in their efforts to restrict coasting during the winter to streets which are reasonably safe.

Need of this action, as well as the ashing of the sledging tracks, which has been done on streets intersecting railroad and street car lines by the service department, is emphasized by the accident this week in Salineville, in which a Wellsville boy, visiting there, sustained a fractured skull when his sled crashed into an automobile.

Despite these precautions, school children, eager to enjoy the winter sports of sledding and skating, take many risks in using streets on which traffic is heavy. This is especially true in the hill districts, which entice coasters.

Seemingly, it requires more than warnings and ashing of streets to safeguard pupils from the daily perils of traffic. Children, released from studies at noon and in the evening, are so overjoyed that they pay little attention to oncoming motor cars in their eagerness to cross busy streets. And notwithstanding chains and brakes, automobiles will skid on ice-covered or snow-covered streets, thus increasing the hazards.

Last April and May, firemen and Boy Scouts were drafted to assist the police department in coping with traffic problems in school zones. And the plan not only taught pupils the need of caution but also checked recklessness on the part of the small percentage of motorists who disregard common sense rules of safety.

Why not adopt this plan during the winter as well as the spring?

Advance In Money Rates

The most important change in business conditions recently has been the rise in money rates.

This development is due, mainly, to two things—exportation of gold and the attempt of the federal reserve banks to restrain the use of bank credit in the speculative markets. It also is due in some measure, of course, to the increase in bank loans, both for commercial and speculative purposes. But the importance of this factor has been greatly over-emphasized.

Increase in the volume of commercial bank loans outstanding during the last year has been far from excessive, while loans by banks on security collateral for their own account have hardly increased at all. And the same is true with regard to investments of banks in securities. The great bulk of the increase in speculative loans is advance made for the account of corporations and individuals.

This condition may not be exactly the case in, say, East Liverpool, but in Chicago, New York and other points where there are great speculative markets the situation just pictured is accurate.

The loss of gold has been a much more important influence than the absorption of funds by the security markets. However, the loss of gold alone has not been sufficiently great to cause any such tightening of money rates as has actually taken place. This is shown by the fact that the total amount of Federal Reserve notes and deposits had declined since the beginning of the year by only three points, from 67 per cent to 64 per cent. These figures compare with a legal minimum of 40 per cent against notes and a minimum of 35 per cent against deposits.

While the rise in money rates is a development that might reasonably be expected to exert an adverse influence on general business activity, its effects in that direction so far have been negligible. As a matter of fact, the rates on commercial loans, especially outside of New York city, have risen much less than those on call and time loans against stock market collateral. In some respects the advance in rates is a change for the better, since it tends to discourage any inflationary tendencies, either in trade or finance.

At all events, there has as yet been little or no complaint of a shortage of funds for legitimate business enterprises.

Earliest Man

From Nairobi comes announcement of a discovery of the utmost interest and importance alike to the scientific world—that of the finding of what is held to be a practically perfect specimen of the earliest modern man—made by the East African Archaeological expedition, which has been searching for prehistoric remains in a great cave in the El Menteta area of Kenya colony in Africa. If the announcement is correct, it means that present-day man has come very close to the cradle of mankind.

The specimen, which has been removed in its entirety with the surrounding earth, is practically perfect save for a pickax hole in the skull. It was found in a sitting position with the knees up under the chin, under thirteen time layers, which, with the one in which the specimen was found, tell the story of mankind from the earliest prehistoric times up to the present occupation by the black natives, the conditions near the cave being ideal for the preservation of geological deposits showing the relations of succeeding climatic conditions. The specimen is said, beyond all doubt, to date back to the early second African pluvial period, which it is explained, was when Europe was still frozen under glacial ice extending as far south as the River Thames and on further south into Central Germany and Russia.

It is further explained that specimens corresponding to the one just found by the East African expedition are traceable in Europe only at a much later date as shown by the European time layers.

The excavating is still being carried on in the hope of finding a specimen or specimens in a strata marking a still earlier period but whether or no, success crowns the continued effort, the skeleton found goes to indicate that the cradle of mankind was in Africa and not in Asia as heretofore very generally held.

The three-year-old ban on United States jazz bans has been lifted by Great Britain, but possibly patrons of British night clubs may be able to secure protection in some other way.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25.—With the election of President Cleveland, a downward revision of the tariff was undertaken and the subject was much in controversy until the election of President McKinley definitely established the protective tariff principle and definitely committed the country to the gold standard. Since that time this has been a high tariff country and today has the second highest tariff of any important country in the world, Spain leading.

So strongly entrenched was the idea of protection that even the Democrats began to see its advantages and with the election of President Wilson but little downward revision was effected.

The change of opinion in the Democratic ranks was due to an industrial change as nearly all political crusades grow out of economic causes. It will be remembered that although John C. Calhoun of South Carolina voted for the tariff bill of 1816, ten years later he was the leader of the nullificationists because that decade reveals an adverse economic effect of the tariff on his section. The same thing has happened again.

As late as the beginning of the twentieth century, 75 per cent of the people of the south were living on farms or in towns of less than 2500 population. The south still was preponderantly an agricultural region with cotton almost the sole product except crops raised for home consumption.

Then there gradually set in some very strong currents of a different sort. Perhaps the first notable break in the free trade ranks of the south came from Louisiana which wanted tariff protection for its cane sugar because of the heavy competition from Cuba where labor costs were much lower. Then the Alabama steel industry, centered at Birmingham, assumed pretensions proportionate to that neighborhood took on an industrial rather than an agricultural aspect. Georgia naval stores although a natural resource, had foreign competition to meet. Manufacturing sprang up in Tennessee.

The greatest stride came when the cotton textile industry of New England concluded to begin a migration to locations nearer the source of supply of its raw material. The long haul of cotton bales was saved and abundant negro labor available brought wage costs down. Land was cheaper and there was ample transportation.

Climate had something to do with the matter. Mild weather the year around was assured in the south. This reduced costs in some industries. The south still had many stands of virgin timber and a substantial furniture industry has grown up.

The pressure of railroad rates was a strong factor. With the successive rate increases granted by the interstate commerce commission, industries found it difficult to compete at a distance and therefore establish branch factories in various parts of the country, giving the south its quota.

In 1880 only 6.3 per cent of the manufacturers of the United States came from the south. Some idea of the extent of the migration may be gleaned from the bureau of the census figures on the value of manufactured products for the South Atlantic states. In 1879 this value was only $292,645,000. By 1909 this figure had jumped to $1,381,186,000 and in 1925 amounted to the astonishing total of $4,535,222,000.

What a boon this was to the people of the south will be observed from the fact that while in 1879 only 213,540 persons were engaged in manufacturing in the South Atlantic states, in 1925 this figure had risen to 938,824 and during that period the wages of those employed had been scaled upward also.

In 1925 the bureau of the census reported that there were fourteen industries in the south Atlantic states each of which was producing a minimum of $50,000,000 a year. This means a total of $700,000,000 for the south-east alone.

It is obvious that such an alteration must have a profound effect upon opinion on tariff protection. These are competitive industries and would not do so well were the country flooded with foreign-made goods. So, just as Senator Calhoun changed his position from pro tariff to free trade at the beginning of the last century, so now, a century later, many Southerners are turning back to protectionism.

The flexible tariff under which, according to the last tariff law, the president may by proclamation, raise or lower a tariff rate not exceeding 50 per cent, has not been a conspicuous success but in many quarters this has been blamed on the manner of administration rather than the idea. It seems highly probable that the new tariff bill, now pending in congress, will work out some wholly readjusted scheme which will be flexible so that industries which need protection may get it, those who do not will not be given artificial opportunities of profiteering, and the way will be open for reciprocal agreements with foreign countries in the interests of good will.

Rosalie has one of the new frocks, known as Mardi Gras prints, which portray in a colorful design the gaily of the carnivals at Venice and Havana as well as the Pasadena rose carnival and the Chinese New Year. A little more conventional than the gay grotesque figures seen in these prints are the wallpaper designs used on new chignons. And the same designs carried out on two materials in one frock.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Paris: My first impression of Paris years ago was the obvious—that of an intense gaiety. Its clatter and squeak seemed the sweet treble of exultant childhood, of an irresponsible light-hearted people at play. Subsequent visits lessened this, until today it was one of haunting melancholy.

Paris is pleasantly appealing, but to me infinitely sad. Americans who have lived here long and love the city often feel the same way. The visitor for the first time is not touched by this breath of long ago—and of perquisites, farthings, hoppedicks and ladies and illustrious kings gathered in the dust.

The stranger observes only the glittering bistros, the perky midnights, the gay singing hum of the boulevards, the ripple of flashy shops and the charm of sidewalk cafes. You see this vitality is of the despairing, "Eat, drink and be merry," sort, an effort always to shake off the shadows.

To enjoy Paris to the fullest, one should never peer into its past. I was reminded of this sharply today in crossing beautiful Place de la Concorde with its background of gorgeous flowers and spiraling birds in the Tuilleries. Under the influence of a resplendent sun, the world was rose-colored.

Yet before I had reached the other side, there came memory of old ladies knitting as bloody heads fell to the guillotine baskets. Always—the shadows. One should not perhaps be affected by such memories, but most of us are, and the longer one lingers the more pronounced they become. Voice—Get out then!

The engaging simplicity—the native—of the French, too, somehow has a tinge of pathos. A venerable hotel valet de chambre on my last visit showed me in the shy manner of the bourgeois a three-masted ship he was fashioning inside of a bottle for a grandchild.

I simulated enthusiasm, and two hours after my arrival there came a gentle rap on the door. It was the old valet, who with trembling hands unwound many strips of cloth and displayed the almost completed ship. All his leisure had been devoted to this humble, "It is all I can leave him," he said with moving tenderness.

Paris speaks a different language to everyone. She—Paris is never "it."

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Nothing can be much more discouraging to the mother than failure of the baby to gain weight. Worse than this, however, is to see the little one wasting away.

There are several causes for failure to develop. Perhaps the most serious one, because it is a defect in the constitution of the child, is a weakness dating to birth.

We speak of those troubles with which we are born as "congenital" defects. Some of the wasting ailments of babies are due to congenital causes.

Among such is congenital heart disease. This may show itself by enlargement of the heart, or by failure in its normal action.

Many a wasted or undernourished baby is in that condition because of the parent's neglect of the ordinary rules of hygiene. It isn't pleasant to say this, but it is a fact. I know, however, that such neglect is not willful. It comes from ignorance.

Really there is no excuse, these days for ignorance in the upbringing of a child. There are so many agencies, as well as highly trained physicians, that no mother need be without the best medical advice.

If your baby does not gain weight do not fail to find out why. Don't ask the neighbors. Consult a good doctor, or go to a hospital clinic or baby health station. Get the very best advice you can find.

The foundation of health is laid in childhood. What the adults is to be depends to a very considerable extent upon the care given the infant. Never forget this.

In one talk with a well informed person the mother can learn the simple rules of hygiene. When they are applied to the upbringing of the child, all will go well.

Improper feeding is a common cause for failure of development. The breast milk may lack the growing elements. Or it is fed from a bottle, the food given the baby may not be prepared properly. What may seem like a trifling change in the method of feeding may start the child on the road to health.

All the time I am telling you about the dangers of infections. Just as localized or general infections may impair the health of adults, so they may undermine the health of a baby.

Tuberculosis, abscess of the ear, pus conditions of the kidneys, chronic bronchitis—any one of these and others may be responsible for failure of growth. Chronic stomach trouble is another factor of importance.

Every baby should be weighed regularly. A record should be kept and the greatest care used to make sure there is satisfactory growth.

At birth the average baby weighs about 7½ pounds. The healthy child is likely to triple in weight during the first year, reaching twenty or twenty-one pounds on the first birthday. Unless there is a gain of at least four ounces a week after the first week, you should look for a reason.

The most rapid growth is during the first twelve weeks. The slowest growth usually is during the period between the sixth and ninth months.

Wasting is a bad sign. If you do not observe the proper increase in weight and appearance of the baby, consult somebody who can advise you.

Other Editors Say

An Impressive Machine.

Forty pounds is sufficient air pressure for the tires of the average car. From this the motorist can get a conception of the power of a machine, perfected by a Harvard professor of physics, which is capable of exerting a pressure of 600,000 pounds. It is the greatest pressure attained by human artifice and with it he has engaged in some surprising experiments.

He is said to have boiled an egg in ice water and to have produced a solid block of ice from water heated to a temperature of 150 degrees, without lowering the temperature of the water. The egg, at any rate, must have been very hard, even if not hard-boiled, after being subjected to such force. The temperature of the block of ice was 118 degrees above "freezing."

Neither of these experiments indicates that the machine can be put to any practical use, though doubtless it will be. The old teakettle is a much handier utensil for boiling an egg, and superheated ice, that would burn one's fingers if one touched it, could not be used in refrigerators. None the less, the device is of interest in this period of high-pressure salesmanship. It shows how many things in our daily lives depend upon pressure being evenly maintained. But a cup of coffee on Pike's peak, where the boiling point is low and the coffee correspondingly weak, teaches much the same lesson.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy.

Don't Encourage Idleness!

Working sisters should not give money to their brothers.

There might be some exceptions to this rule, but not many.

It is a grave mistake for a girl to give money to a brother who will not work.

Those who accept such gifts are practically worthless.

To provide money for a shiftless man is to encourage his laziness.

Some brothers are so devoid of manhood that they will threaten to commit serious offenses if they are not given the money they ask for.

To accede to the demands of such a man is merely to delay the time when he will bring disgrace upon the family and himself.

To indulge a brother in his desire to avoid work is to increase the chances of his going wrong.

The normal boy cannot imagine any brother who could take money from a working sister.

But there are many such, and even older men who are willing to live on the efforts of the women members of their families.

Even a spark of manhood would not consider living on the income provided by a woman's work, and an able-bodied man who does it, is about as abject and low a piece of humanity as exists today.

School Failures Here Drop; Save $34,074

Per Capita Cost of Education in East Liverpool Is $54 a Year Superintendent Says.

Failures among pupils in the East Liverpool district schools decreased from three percent during the year 1924 to 1928, thus saving approximately $34,074, according to figures prepared today by Superintendent C. S. McVay for submission to the board of education.

Records show 784 failures in 1924, when the enrollment in the elementary schools was 4,374. The number in 1928 was 153 with a total registration of 4,778.

The per capita cost of operating the school is $54 for the term, or approximately $6 a month. Thus the expense of pupils remaining in the one grade for two years was $42,536 in 1924, compared with $8,262 in 1928.

"Teacher Training" State Meeting Topic

PARENTS SET GOOD EXAMPLE, REVIVAL PLEA

Mothers' Love Necessary, Rev. J. M. Huff Declares.

NAZARENE MEET "Family Night" Services Held in Chester Church.

To another large audience, the Rev. J. M. Huff, of the Nazarene church, spoke on the theme, "Parental Influence," at the revival in the Nazarene church in Chester last night. It was "Family night" and many fathers and mothers with their children were in attendance.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. V. Huff of Coler, W. Va., were among the visitors. The latter was formerly a resident of Chester. They will remain until Saturday.

R. T. Eby directed a period of song with Miss Opal Huff, daughter of the evangelist, accompanying. He also sang "My Mother's Prayer." Another musical feature was a duet by LeRoy and Wesley Fuller of East Liverpool, who sang "Jesus Pills My Soul With Sunshine."

The Rev. Mr. Huff presented Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson of Chester with a picture, "Jesus Praying at Gethsemane," they qualifying with their three children as the largest family at the service.

Children Reflect Parents' Lives. The story of Moses' mother formed the background for the message of the minister. He spoke of her faith, self-denial and courage in turn, indicating all as necessary qualities for present-day parents if they would have their children grow in wisdom, goodness and spiritual earnestness.

"If parents these days were ever careful as to where their children go there would be less prostitutes and inmates of penal institutions," he observed. "Many parents censure children when they but reflect the lives of their parents."

"Nothing but a mother's love can prompt a real sacrifice commensurate with the welfare of children. It is harder to save the boys and girls today than it is to get many of their fathers and mothers to pray."

"Most mothers by reason of her great faith in God, trusted Him fully as every mother should do. Her self-denial was such that she knew where he was all of the time, even having his sister to care for him as he lay in the basket in the bulrushes."

And she was courage to the final degree. Mothers are ever brave when their children are in danger. Fathers will sometimes forsake them and leave them to their destruction, but not the mother, who has a note of courage.

Responsibility of Parents. To launch a boy and girl on life's sea is greater than the launching of a ship.

RIVER STAGE FALLS; LIBERTY PASSES HERE

Senator Cordill Will Arrive in Cincinnati Today.

DELIVER BARGES

Captain O'Brien Will be In Charge of Mardi Gras Trip.

The slight rise in the Monongahela river has not changed the stage in the Ohio river, lock tenders at Dam No. 8 said today. The Allegheny is running full of ice.

The stage here today was 17 feet, having fallen from 17.9 feet yesterday afternoon.

The steamer Liberty passed here last night.

Ellsworth Leaves Cordill.

Captain Charles Ellsworth of the steamer Betsy Ann, who stood watch on the packet Senator Cordill as far as Parkersburg, returned to Pittsburgh and Jesse Hughes took his watch as pilot. Fred Way, Jr., president of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Line, and William Pollock, general manager, left Miami, Fla., Tuesday for Pittsburgh. They are making the trip by automobile. Repairs to the packet Betsy Ann are nearing completion and it is expected that the boat will resume her Cincinnati trade early next month. The Cordill will arrive in Cincinnati today.

The American Bridge company delivered three standard steel coal carrying barges to the Crucible Fuel company of Midland, Pa., out of an order of 12. Work is well under way in the shops of the company on the fabrication of material for the construction of eight barges for the West Kentucky coal company of Paducah, Ky.

City of Pittsburgh Passes Cairo.

The steamer City of Pittsburgh of the Carnegie Lines, with Captain Calvin Blalzer in charge, passed Cairo yesterday on her way to Pittsburgh from New Orleans. The steamer has a tow of 17 barges, six of which are loaded with sulphur which are to be delivered to the plants on the Monongahela river.

Captain James O'Brien, formerly of Pittsburgh and at one time in charge of the excursion steamer Homer Smith, will be in charge of the side-wheel steamer Cincinnati, when she leaves the Cincinnati harbor, Sunday, February 3, for New Orleans on the annual Mardi Gras trip. Several Pittsburghers will be on board to make the round trip.

DRY CHIEF MUST GO TO JAIL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 25.—Dr. Edward S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti Saloon League, must serve his sentence of 60 days at the state penal farm for contempt of the Indiana supreme court, Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell ruled here today.

POLICEMAN SHOT, SUSPECT WOUNDED

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—A policeman was shot and probably fatally wounded and a suspect sought by police, barricaded in an apartment, was perhaps mortally wounded here today in a terrific pitched battle in which four squads of detectives employed tear gas, machine guns, revolvers and riot guns.

Policeman Walter Skolny was shot in the abdomen. John Scerba, suspect, was shot five times.

Patrolman Skolny and his partner, Sergeant James Kilgore, went to the Scerba residence to arrest the man. When they knocked upon the door they were met with a volley of shots.

For Colds -

How many people you know end their colds with Bayer Aspirin! And how often you've heard of its prompt relief of sore throat or tonsillitis. No wonder millions take it for colds, neuralgia, rheumatism; and the aches and pains that go with them. The wonder is that anyone still worries through a winter without these tablets! They relieve quickly, yet have no effect whatever on the heart. Friends have told you Bayer Aspirin is marvelous; doctors have declared it harmless. Every druggist has it, with proven directions. Why not put it to the test?

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturers of Monacodachlester of Salzfelfeld

MARKS SIXTEENTH NATAL DAY AS GREAT GRANDMOTHER REACHES 96TH

Mrs. Shaw was hostess at dinner to members of her family. Miss Shaw entertained a group of 16 at her party with music, games and other appropriate features. Miss Pauline Barker was a prize winner and Miss Ruth Orr the pianist.

Mrs. Chester Dorman, the hostess' mother served luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Gilmore.

Irwin Lauds Hoover

his "generous philanthropies and unselfish patriotism."

"For the first time in many years, Harold Barth, efficient secretary of the chamber, has selected a Republican as our annual speaker," said Wells in his introductory remarks. "For several years, until the supply was exhausted, he picked Democrats and last year he went to Germany for a speaker. But this year he went to the Pacific coast and secured a former schoolmate of Herbert Hoover as our guest."

"Will Irwin, with Irvin Cobb and John McCutcheon were the first American newspaper correspondents to go to France at the beginning of the World war. They managed to become German prisoners of war and have been writing about it ever since. Irwin wrote the story about the trouble in Ypres and was black-listed by the English and French armies but Lloyd George fixed that up. Irwin is the 'ace of correspondents.'"

Irwin's story of the social and industrial conditions of South America and of the resources which it possesses, and for future development were graphically described. Hoover was welcomed "with open arms" at every stop, Irwin asserted.

Explains Purpose of Tour.

"Hoover's good-will mission to South America has been misunderstood by the great majority of the people," he said. "When we are going to cash in?" is the question which is being asked. The average person thinks that the visit was arranged in order to get big business from the South American countries but this is a mistake. The tour was for the purpose of laying foundations for relations between the United States and the southern continent during the next four years. The leaders talked over matters of common interest. It was a statesman's job."

Irwin cited one case of where Hoover's visit had prevented a revolution in Honduras, the first stop of the party. A new president had been elected and, running true to form, warfare should have started when the new administration came into control. After conferring with the leaders in the incoming and outgoing administrations, the defeated candidate shook hands with his successor and bloodshed was prevented. "Hoover sealed the agreement," Irwin said.

"Hoover's visit to South America was a stimulus to the promotion of aviation between the north and the south, Irwin said. "I mailed a letter in Rio de Janeiro on December 23 and it reached New York last Saturday. This indicates the need of faster communication."

"Mr. Hoover is seriously interested in the establishment of an air mail line to South America. Lima, capital of Peru, is but 36 hours by air from Washington. Buenos Aires is 74 hours. We can send a letter by air from Washington to Buenos Aires in less time than it can be sent by train to San Francisco."

Sees Pan-American Highway.

"An air line has already been established between the United States and Havana and interests are now organizing a line between Havana and Colombia. Landing fields are being provided in Ecuador and Peru to aid in the establishment of air mail service. The French government is putting $2,000,000 into a movement for a fast mail service between Paris and the South American continent. America cannot afford to pass up this chance for development."

"For several years a Pan-American railroad connecting North and South America has been contemplated. This project is said to be two-thirds completed, but the other one-third which is yet to be built possesses a long and costly engineering feat. I do not believe that the connecting link will be completed during this generation. But a highway system can be constructed in the meantime. South America is becoming interested in automobiles and with the motor car will come in."

"We marveled at the pampas of Argentina as we crossed to Buenos Aires, a wonderful city. This city is being flooded with Europeans who are coming at the rate of 100,000 to 200,000 a year. It has a large radical population which swept the polls at the last election. The new president faces the problem of dissolving the immense estates, and great reforms must be adopted to save the country. Brazil presents a different proposition for the people in this country are of Portuguese extraction. Rio de Janeiro is the most beautiful city in the world. Here woman suffrage has been adopted and the country is holding its breath for the result."

Feel Culture is Being Invaded.

"Generally speaking South Americans feel that their culture is being invaded by the people of the United States. They are interested as to how we will construe the Monroe doctrine. Many of the radicals oppose the introduction of United States customs."

"The European governments control press bureaus and only news matter which is likely to appeal to the South American is sent out. There is no such censorship in the United States, and accounts of hold-ups, train robberies, murders and divorces flood the wires into the country. South American editors naturally feature these stories on their first pages of the paper, and as a result the average reader thinks that we are a nation of bad people. They are afraid to come to the United States."

Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of the entertainment committee which includes H. D. Hoffman, J. A. Anderson, L. W. Smith, R. J. McElravy, M. J. Newman and W. B. Louthan

LIST 226 BILLS AT COLUMBUS

Ohio Legislators Enjoying Week-end Recess.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—Having introduced 226 bills during the past three weeks, Ohio legislators today were enjoying their week-end recess. The senate and house will reconvene at 7:30 P. M. Monday.

Of the bills already introduced, 134 were offered in the house and 92 in the senate.

The house is scheduled to take action early next week relative to the Ehrlich resolution providing for the appointment of three senators and three house members who as a joint legislative committee, would be empowered to investigate the recent grade crossing disaster near Bellevue, determine the cause, or causes, for the catastrophe and suggest means of averting similar disasters.

The Myers bill, requiring interurban railroad cars to be brought to a full stop before passing over dangerous grade crossings will come up for second reading and reference to a committee in the house Monday or Tuesday.

proved highways. American automobile manufacturers see an opportunity for a market in South America and cars are coming into the country by the thousands."

"Mr. Hoover knows twice as much about the rest of the world as any person who ever entered the White House," Irwin continued. "He has worked in Europe, in Asia and in Africa and naturally sought to learn something of the other American continent before taking office."

Continent of Future.

"South America is a continent of the future. It is awakening to its possibilities. It has been neglected, and lagged in its development. The continent is bisected by a high range of mountains which extend from the Isthmus of Panama to the Horn and is crossed with but one railroad line between Chile and Argentina. Until this generation South America has not been ready for development. It presents many engineering problems and that's where we come in. Mr. Hoover, I believe, must have felt his fingers itch to get back to his old job of engineering as he looked through the window of our train."

"In Ecuador and Bolivia transportation facilities are limited. These two countries contain vast supplies of silver and tin. Argentina with its vast agricultural territory, Brazil and other countries also offer equal opportunities for development."

"Political and social conditions in South America are interesting. A years ago the continent threw off the yoke of Spain and established separate Republics, modeling their governments after that of the United States, then in its infancy. But conditions in the United States were different. We had a nation of small property holders but not so in South America. Argentina today is controlled by 12,000 families. The governing class in Ecuador, we are told, numbers less than 1,500 families and so with the other countries."

Ruled by Dictators.

South America has a small governing class, a large illiterate class and practically no middle class. The larger part of the population of the United States is of middle class."

For many years South America has been ruled by dictators who alone have been responsible for the retarded progress. Viceroyalties held their office for three years and during that time massed large fortunes."

"Ecuador needs a thorough cleaning before it can be developed. It is now being ruled by an eminent surgeon, who has established schools and is attempting to place the country in a position where it can govern itself."

"We marveled at the pampas of Argentina as we crossed to Buenos Aires, a wonderful city. This city is being flooded with Europeans who are coming at the rate of 100,000 to 200,000 a year. It has a large radical population which swept the polls at the last election. The new president faces the problem of dissolving the immense estates, and great reforms must be adopted to save the country. Brazil presents a different proposition for the people in this country are of Portuguese extraction. Rio de Janeiro is the most beautiful city in the world. Here woman suffrage has been adopted and the country is holding its breath for the result."

Feel Culture is Being Invaded.

"Generally speaking South Americans feel that their culture is being invaded by the people of the United States. They are interested as to how we will construe the Monroe doctrine. Many of the radicals oppose the introduction of United States customs."

"The European governments control press bureaus and only news matter which is likely to appeal to the South American is sent out. TODAY

Some of them are theoretically defending the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, others are theoretically attacking it.

In a real war, as Senator Reed, of Missouri, said the other day, enemy airplanes could destroy the locks of the Panama Canal and put it out of business in five hours. And battleships would hurry in the other direction to avoid being sunk by the same airplanes. Uncle Sam needs a sea level in Nicaragua.

JOB said, in a pessimistic mood, "He that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more." Neither shall his place know him any more."

It would surprise Job and his friend Eliphaz to learn that Dr. Steinmetz, who died several years ago, is to be heard on the radio throughout the United States on the thirtieth of this month. A photophone film made before his death will be heard by millions.

THANKS to radio, from this day forward the dead will speak to the living and nobody will dare question the authenticity of THAT miracle.

A GERMAN music hall singer, tall, fat and florid, sang "Only no cold water. My weak stomach cannot bear it."

European governments appointing experts to decide what Germany can and must pay, sing a similar song. "Only no mention of the money we owe America. Our weak stomachs couldn't bear it."

IT is all right to let Americans help to extract whatever gold Germany can pay. But Americans suggesting that any part of the proceeds should be devoted to that ten billion U. S. A. war debt strikes Europe as very crude.

THE British can't quite make up their minds to build a tunnel under the English Channel, connecting France and Britain. They feel as they felt more than a hundred years ago when Napoleon was trying to get across the Channel.

They fear that another Napoleon might march through the tunnel. If any second Napoleon comes, it will be through the air, and every intelligent Englishman knows it. But tradition is powerful.

A MICHIGAN court sentencing a grandmother to life imprisonment for selling a pint of whiskey was the subject of a newspaper cartoon. Congressman Boylan, Democrat, of New York, wanted to print the cartoon in the Congressional Record. Congressman Tilson, Republican floor leader, terribly shocked, said: "Cartoons must never be printed in the Record."

If they were printed, well selected, the Record would have more readers. For instance, a cartoon printed in the Record every month, showing what would happen to New York, Washington, Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, New Orleans and Chicago, if enemy planes ever came with bombs from the North, East, South or West, we might possibly promote an adequate air fleet.

MR. V. M. WHITNEY, of Brooklyn, got married and wrote the "Fourteen Points of Married Life," saying just what a husband should be and do. Now he is asking for a divorce. There were 14 other points started in the White House that fared about as badly.

GERMANY applauds and criticizes the former Kaiser's book, entitled "My Ancestors."

What kind of a book would Frederick the Great write if he could come back and write "My Descendants?"

TRANSFER SCORE ON SOUND LINER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 25.—A score or more passengers from the Sound liner Georgia, helpless with a broken propeller off the Connecticut coast, were transferred safely and without mishap to the steamship City of Lowell of the Providence line, according to officials of the Bay State line, owners of the Georgia, today.

The Georgia lost her propeller, according to officials of the Bay State line. Captain Harry Lindren signaled for assistance.

The City of Lowell which was in Long Island sound in the vicinity of the disabled Georgia, immediately went to the assistance of the helpless craft.

Following the transfer of the passengers, the City of Lowell proceeded to this port, where the passengers were landed.

No Hope for Man on Ice Floe.

PETOSKEY, Mich., Jan. 25.—Hope was practically abandoned today for Lewis Sweet after three airplanes had failed to sight the Alanson fisherman who drifted into Lake Michigan on an ice floe Tuesday.

COOLIDGES END SOCIAL SEASON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The White House has glittered for the last time for a social function during the Coolidge administration.

The final social event the Coolidges have scheduled was the army and navy reception last night.

Mrs. Coolidge, with a tiny handkerchief, dabbed tears out of her eyes as she said farewell to old friends.

NAB DETROIT MEN ON BANK ROBBERY COUNT

Figures in Alleged Kidnaping-Murder Plot Jailed.

MICHIGAN CASE

Ralph A. Wood and C. T. Holt Named in $75,000 Job.

DETROIT, Jan. 25.—Ralph A. Wood and Cecil T. Holt, two of the principal figures in the alleged kidnaping and murder conspiracy plot case in which Wood's wife, Grace M. Wood, was claimed to have been involved, were arrested here early today in connection with the $75,000 robbery of the Sturgis National bank at Sturgis, Mich., on Dec. 17, 1928.

Holt, the "squealer," and Wood, purported intended victim of the asserted murder conspiracy, were arrested on warrants signed by Justice of the peace Charles L. Haner, of Sturgis.

Assistant Prosecutor J. P. Sloane, acting for Prosecutor Lawrence of St. Joseph county, recommended the warrants.

Wood has been identified as one of the five bandits who held up the Sturgis bank in a daring daylight robbery and escaped with $15,000 cash and $60,000 in negotiable securities, police said. Both men were arrested by deputy sheriffs and state troopers operating under orders of the prosecutor's office of St. Joseph county.

Wood was taken into custody at his fashionable suburban home at Wyandotte by State Troopers J. M. Sheridan and Fred Lally. Holt was arrested in the county jail here where he had sought refuge after an alleged attempt on his life last Tuesday. Lieut. Alonzo Gillette and Detective Harold W. Robberson, of the state police, and Lester E. Dunn, chief deputy sheriff, arresting him.

Both men were placed in state police cars under heavy guard, immediately following their arrest, and rushed to Centerville, seat of St. Joseph county.

Cuban girls are said to be losing interest in American dolls.

GUM SORE, SUES OHIO DENTIST

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—Casper Hicks has a sore gum. Dr. C. C. Winfrey has a damage suit filed against him.

Hicks claims in the suit for $5,000, that Dr. Winfrey failed to entirely extract a tooth, allowing a portion to remain in the gum. Because of this he was unable to "work for four weeks."

BRITISH RULER GAINING HEALTH

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The infection of the right side of King George's chest has been eradicated, according to the following official medical bulletin issued at Buckingham Palace just before noon today:

"The improvement in his majesty's condition noted in the last bulletin continues. A bacteriological examination shows the right chest now free of infecting organism."

It was signed by Sir Hugh Rigby, Dr. L. E. H. Whitby and Lord Dawson of Penn.

"Surprise" is the story of a man, a farmer, tempted to murder his wife because he is in the toils of a city siren. He agrees to a plan by which he will upset a boat with his wife in it and save himself with a bundle of bullrocks, acting like a life preserver, which the siren prepares. But at the critical moment his conscience re-asserts itself and he rows his wife back to shore. She flees from him in horror, going to the city. He follows, trying to explain that his murderous intentions have been conquered. Finally, in a church, where she has sought refuge, they become reconciled and spend the rest of the day in the city on a second honeymoon.

Sharkey Risks Chin And Big Shot In South Against Christner

Gob Made Favorite On Points

Ohioan's Powerful Punch His One Big Weapon.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—This is the night on which Jack Sharkey will be required to place his chin up there on the line and give K. O. Christner a chance to repeat the hole-in-one he scored with Knute Hanson's countenance in Cleveland one month ago almost to the day and hour. That blow knocked Hanson all the way out of Wall Street or Wall Street completely out of Hanson or both, thus leaving mankind slightly less than desolated. I just know that mankind also will rally gamely from the shock if he repeats against Sharkey tonight. One can be very brave in the face of misfortune, provided it is somebody else's.

As a matter of fact, it would be several people's—Jack Dempsey, the Madison Square Garden corporation's and, to be sure, Jack Sharkey's. For if Sharkey blows this one, there will be no $100,000 for him at Miami Beach next month because there will be no fight for him there or elsewhere. He never would be able to live the thing down.

As for Dempsey and the Garden, they are very heavily obligated for a fight they wouldn't be able to promote. Figuring himself as a winner, Christner already has declared himself out of the Miami Beach party. He doesn't seem to care devotedly about playmating with Willie Stripling at this time.

Stripling himself is going for an airing within the same twenty-four hours with Ralph Smith as his companion. This means that William is in very grave danger. He might be kicked right in the face while Ralph is taking off from the spring board.

Christner, on the contrary, has the genuine chance that goes with any hitter. Nobody expects him to score another birdie but everybody knows that he might and that is the reason the Garden is sold solid to a $75,000 house for a match between a 34-year-old tyro who was in the vulcanizing pits at Akron two years ago and a man who hasn't made a good fight since Dempsey renovated him in 1926.

However, Sharkey still is a front-rank fighter and Christner quite apparent isn't. He is crude, unschooled and awkward; he hits often and hard but doesn't hit according to the accepted manner. And, of course, he lacks experience. So did Firpo, for that matter. He lacked almost everything. But a lot of his opponents lacked consciousness after the second punch landed. I don't think there is any particular sense in expecting Christner to be another Firpo.

He is just a rough, tough man who should make matters very interesting for Sharkey for a few rounds at least. The fight is scheduled for ten rounds now, for six of these, Christner may be in the money. After that, he probably will tire under the left-handing he figures to get, allowing the better man to go on and win. Unless he is clipped by a wild punch, Sharkey in dubitably will be the better man.

He has too many guns, too much speed and class for the Christner of this life. There is one thing, however, about the Christners: They are reconciled to the bumps and ruts of the road; they expect to take the rap from fate and take it philosophically in exchange for the old chance that a break will come to them. Christner at least has that chance tonight. Unless his chin is not what it might be, he will always have that chance.

Christians, M. P. Passers Loop Winners

Defeat Newell M. P. and St. Stephens Fives.

Christians finished ahead of the Newell Methodists by the narrow margin of one point, 28-27, and the Methodist Protestants won from the St. Stephens in two good games last night on the M. P. court.

Staley, Snape, Reese, Massey and Mosser were the principal scorers. Two games are scheduled tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. The M. P.'s tackle the Presbyterians and the St. Stephens meet the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodists.

SHARKEY CONFIDENT HE'LL WIN

The Boston gob doesn't appear to be greatly troubled over his prospects in tonight's fight with K. O. Christner, the Ohioan, as the former dries off after a stiff gymnasium workout.

Ohio Quints on Home Courts For 16 Week-End Engagements

Ohio University Bobcats Tackle Cincinnati Wildcats in Limelight Scrap.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—Ohio college basketball teams will stay in their own back yard this week-end and will be visited only by other teams for six of these, Christner may be in the money. After that, he probably will tire under the left-handing he figures to get, allowing the better man to go on and win. Unless he is clipped by a wild punch, Sharkey in dubitably will be the better man.

Mount Host To Kenyon.
Mt. Union plays host to Kenyon, and should not have a great deal of trouble downing the lads from Gambler. Kenyon lost to Kent last night and lacked the punch which makes basketball teams.

Marletta pays a visit to capital and is after a victory, but they won't find it so easy. Akron university zippers meet Baldwin-Wallace at Berea, and although the Bereans have a fighting, snappy team, the Rubber City lads have the edge.

In the Northwest conference, Findlay tangles with Toledo, and Bluffton mixes with Bowling Green. Defiance, the fifth member of the Big Five, is idle. Findlay has a clean slate for the season, and is resolved to keep it unmarred. Bowling Green's falcons are expected to top the score in their game with Bluffton, but one can never tell about some of these games.

Tomorrow night, the Bix Six occupies the spotlight with two important games on the card; Miami and Ohio at Oxford, and Ohio Wesleyan and Denison at Delaware. In the first game, the outcome is more or less of a toss-up, but Ohio has a slight edge over the Big Red. Ohio Wesleyan's Batting Bishops should win their game with Denison, but the Indians are determined to let the Wesleyan lads know they are in a game. However, the chances are the score will not be large and no great gap lies between.

Muskies, Lutherans Tangle.
The Dayton Flyers play host to Wilmington and have an edge over the Quakers. Muskingum tangles with the Lutherans from Wittenberg in another game which promises to be close and fast. Heidelberg travels to Oberlin, determined to keep their record up to the standard. Whether they can or not, is not known.

LUTHERANS DOWN CHESTER QUINT

Lutheran cagers of the Sunday school circuit defeated the Chester United Presbyterians 50-18, last night on the Chester floor. Martin with 13 points and Morgan with 12 were the leading point makers.

Two High Squads at Bellaire

Martins Ferry Billed on Local Court Tomorrow.

EAST LIVERPOOL high school basketball players will plunge into lower Ohio valley basketball society over the week-end, games being scheduled with Bellaire and Martins Ferry quints, two old rivals with whom the Potters have held some hectic athletic sessions in recent years.

Both the girls' and the boys' squads of the local school will take the trip to Bellaire tonight. A return meeting between the two teams is scheduled here Feb. 15.

Following tonight's games, the girls will return home while the boys' squad will rest at the McClure hotel, returning Saturday morning.

Athletic managers figure the rest will put the squad in shape again for the Saturday night engagement with Martins Ferry on the auditorium court.

Three games are on the Saturday bill, opening with the local and Newell high school girls. East Liverpool reserves clash with Newell high in the semifinal. Jack Patton of Scrubenville will referee.

Tickets for the Saturday games are on sale at Helms, Smith News and Dick Bryan's.

Lorah's Newell teams go into action tonight at Salineville. The Salineville boys' team recently won from Wellsville.

New Cumberland boys and girls will perform against the two Chester teams on the Chester auditorium court tonight. Tomorrow night Coach Keightley takes his boys to Bethany.

MIDLAND SET FOR LEETSDALE

MIDLAND, Pa., Jan. 25.—The Lincoln High school quintet will meet the Leetsdale team tonight on the home floor. The Midland Reserves will clash with the East Liverpool, O., reserves in the preliminary number.

The Leetsdale five has been out-classed every game this season but they have hopes of toppling the Steel City squad.

Alston the colored center, who will do the jumps where Weir starred, has shown up well.

AT JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—Murray Giltz, New York, outpointed Ike McFowley, Johnston Negro heavyweight (10).

AT ELAM, Pa.—Gene Jeanette, of Norristown, Pa., won from Bob Mitchell, Philadelphia, on technical knock-out (6).

Weygant and Dunn Set For Monday's Battle

For sustained action, general balance and "punchiness," Matchmaker Ray Foutts has what he believes one of his best cards of the season for Monday night's milling at Wellsville under auspices of the Valley A. C., with Eddie Weygant, the New Castle veteran, swapping gloves with Johnny Dunn, the New Kensington "kid" star who is adjudged by Smoky City fistic experts as probably the best featherweight in the Pittsburgh district.

The Weygant-Dunn scrap is one of the features. Another will send Freddy Edwards, the Chester barber, into the same ring where he achieved his recent victory over Ray Mitchell, against Irish Tommy Harris of Pittsburgh.

And two four-round preliminaries in which every effort is made to match equally able punchers, round out the schedule.

Foutts yesterday received Dunn's forfeit check and is expecting Weygant today.

Both Weygant and Dunn have been more or less active in the last six months, the latter giving Johnny Michaels, the Jamestown veteran, an ear-boxing in Motor Square Garden, Pittsburgh, on New Year's afternoon.

Looking ahead to future events Matchmaker Foutts today announced that he was trying to sign Jackie Rodgers, the sensational Pittsburgh bantam, a two-fisted fighter and one of the spunkiest kids that has stepped up in Pennsylvania rings for some time. Foutts is planning his next card for Feb. 11 and hopes to have Rodgers in the feature. Tickets for the Monday scrap are on sale at Frank Diamond's store here and at the Smokehouse, Wellsville.

Smith Passers Win Overtime Battle at "Y"

Marmons Nose Out Packards in League Clash.

Firth Smith's Marmons took the lead in the Y. M. C. A. league race last night when they defeated the Packards, 44 to 40, in an overtime scrimmage on the "Y" court. Peerless skidded into the league cellar on a forfeit to the Cadillacs.

Field goals by Campbell and Smith decided the Marmon-Packard clash, Campbell's tying the score and Smith's winning the game in the extra period after the counting had ended at 40-40.

The Packards outclassed the Marmons as far as team play was concerned and their chances for a victory might have been better had not Edwards been chased on personal fouls, forcing the Packards to play with four men in the last four minutes of the final period.

The Marmons led, 15 to 8, in the first period but lost ground in the second when the count was 24-20. The Packards spurred in the third and hung up a 34-37 margin when the period ended.

The Marmons began to crawl up again in the final period and Campbell's shot in the last 10 seconds tied the tally at 40-40. In the extra period Firth Smith got loose for two baskets, Campbell, Smith and A. Kidd were the Marmon stars. Staley, Massey and C. Kidd were the principal Packard performers.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We are two girls that chum together. One of us will be sixteen in June and the other was fifteen in December.

Now, there are two boys who are very good friends. One is eighteen and the other twenty-three. My girl friend likes the one twenty-three. When I first met him I had two dates with him and I really liked him. But when he found out I was fourteen he said: "When you are sixteen call around." Do you thing he likes me? The only time we see them is of an evening in their car. Sometimes, they stop, but not often.

Please do not say we are too young to go with boys, but tell us how we may win them.

BROKEN HEARTS.
BROKEN HEARTS: Don't be such silly children. You are entirely too young to let serious thoughts of love enter your heads. Treat the young men in a friendly way, but don't make yourselves ridiculous by "trying to win them." Evidently the one young man realizes what a child you are.

THE STYLE presented is an individual coat type, important for all-day wear in featherweight tweed. Imagine making it in an hour! Three-piece bodice, attached skirt in two sections. Silk crepe, crepe satin and georgette crepe also appropriate.

THE PATTERN of this Style No. 2554 contains the new Chart showing in pictures each step in the making of the garment. It cuts in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust.

In ordering patterns clip the design shown or order by number. Write your name and address plainly enclosing 15 cents and mail to Fashion Department, East Liverpool Review. From 7 to 10 days are required for delivery of patterns.

NEW FASHION BOOK containing all the Spring styles is 15 cents, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

and I really admire his attitude. So be good girls and wait a while before you begin to think serious thoughts of love and life.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl of twenty-one and have been going with a young man. I have been going with him three months and I am in love with him. He says he cares a whole lot for me and he likes me more than any one he ever saw. But he doesn't show it. He makes dates with other girls and doesn't come to see me very often.

If he cares for me, would he make dates with other girls?
He wants me to take car rides with him, and my mother doesn't allow me to go. So he gets sore. Do you think he should get mad?

LONESOME IVA.
The young man cares for you in the manner he says, he would not get "sore" when your mother refuses to allow you to go riding with him. And, remember, my dear, if you are not engaged to him you have no right to attempt to limit his friendships; nor he, yours. Your mother is acting for your own good, and you should not resent it. If he is the type that does not respect her wish to protect and guide you, then he really is not the man for you. So I shouldn't, if I were in your place, worry about things at all.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl of nineteen and am going with a young man who is eleven years older than myself. He is a widower, his wife having died a number of years ago and leaving two lovely children whom his mother takes care of. This young man is very kind to me. He takes me to shows and many other places of amusements. His parents do not object to our going together. I love him very dearly and I am almost sure that he loves me.

What I want to know is this: We are cousins and would there be any harm in our marrying? I would also like to know whether the girl should take the young man's arm when leaving a theatre or merely walking down the street or whether he should take her arm.

BROWN EYES: The question of marriage between cousins is one to be determined by the laws of the state in which you reside, and perhaps more important, by your spiritual adviser. I am sorry I can say nothing more than this, my dear.

A girl should never take a young man's arm. Nor should he take her arm for any length of time. He should, however, take it to assist her through a crowd or across the street.

CHESTER WELLS FATHERS SENATE BILL

"Narrow" Classification
Proposal Offered
In Upper House.

State Senator W. Edwin Wells, Jr., of Newell, offered an amendment yesterday in the upper house providing for the "narrow" classification of property. His action followed the presentation of a bill by his colleague, Senator Wright Huges, calling for the "broad" classification and providing for the levying of a graduated income tax not to exceed two per cent, and exemption of property from taxation for a period of not more than five years.

The judiciary committee of the senate presented a constitutional amendment creating the office of lieutenant governor, the change being lifted from an original proposal changing the date of inauguration of state officers and creating the post of vice executive.

British Fire Losses Climb $8,000,000 During Last Year

LONDON.—Despite improved methods of fire-fighting and prevention, damage by fire in the British Isles increased by nearly $8,000,000 in 1928. During 1927 the fire loss was nearly $35,000,000. In 1927 there was a decrease of nearly $3,000,000. The 1928 increase was due to an unusually large number of huge fires at business premises in London and other big cities.

CAPLANS GET OLD FACTORY

Acquire Horn Switch
Site for Automobile
Wrecking Place.

Purchase of the old Louthan Supply company's plant at Jefferson street and the Horn switch by Samuel and Nathan Caplan was announced today.

The Caplan brothers have been occupying the property for the last year as an automobile wrecking establishment and junk yard. The family has been in the junk trade in East Liverpool for about 24 years, the business being founded by the father, the late Samuel Caplan, who operated yards in Jefferson street and Rural lane for many years. While this site is still being used the owners recently found it necessary to acquire additional space to take care of increased business.

Canadian Farmer Will Hang for Ax Murder

Ernest Olson, Who Went to Saskatchewan From Minnesota 18 Years Ago is Refused New Trial.

REGINA, Sask. — Ernest Olson, a farm hand who came from Minnesota 18 years ago and who is now awaiting execution for a double "ax-murder" has been refused a new trial by the Saskatchewan court of appeal.

Olson was found guilty of splitting open the heads of his former employer and his housekeeper and then setting fire to the house. An appeal of insanity, entered on Olson's behalf, included the testimony of an authority who said that Olson was a congenital mental defective since birth.

Olson placidly puffs cigarettes as he waits the coming of the hangman to Prince Albert jail on February 15. The condemned man has one ray of hope. That is the minister of justice at Ottawa will intervene in his case and further probe the insanity plea. Another condemned murderer is in Saskatchewan has had better luck. He is William McGill, 27, farm hand of the Climax district, near the Montana border. He was sentenced to die for the shooting of Anna Goff, 10-year-old orphan, but has been granted a new trial on the ground that the trial jury was misdirected.

The first hanging of the year in western Canada occurred at Regina, January 18, when Mike Haack, deaf farmer, was executed for the murder of George Eby, a neighbor.

Demand for women horticulturists in England is greater than the supply.

L. H. Johnson and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk Confer With State Highway Officials.

Columbus between state highway officials and L. H. Johnson, commissioners' clerk, and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

Suggestions have been made to the county commissioners that certain road projects should be considered. In a few instances petitions have been filed by property owners urging improvements and waiving possible damage claims. It has been indicated that the commissioners will give first consideration to road improvement projects in connection with which no damages are asked. However, this does not mean that the commissioners will refrain from purchasing tracts which may be necessary for new highways. The fact that property owners on the Summitville - Kensington road have asked approximately $18,000 damages practically eliminates that highway from the improvement program for some time, it is said.

Similar entry has been made in an action filed against Marion C. Long and others.

Auto Damage Verdict for $165.

Judgment on the verdict for $165 has been entered in the case of Margaret Ziga, a minor, against Patrick Redington. The suit was based upon a damage claim as a result of an automobile accident.

CRUEL NEURITIS PUT TO FLIGHT BY NEW KONJOLA

Happy Young Lady, Free From Pain, Tells of Many Kinds of Medicines and Treatments Failing.

MISS STELLA WARE.
Those who may have the groundless belief that there is no escape from the dread clutches of neuritis, will find great encouragement in the fact that Konjola is winning victory after victory over this torturing ailment. Read of the happy and surprising experience of Miss Stella Ware, 33 Runkle street, Ashtabula, Ohio, had with this super-compound.
"After three years of doctoring I found at last the right medicine in Konjola," she declares. "Among the things I tried in an effort to get relief from neuritis was a series of 42 treatments. No results. The pains were so fierce that when they came on I was — one paralyzed. I was completely worn out, nervous and exhausted all the time. The splendid endorsements of Konjola led me to give this new medicine a trial. The results were simply marvelous. While taking the first bottle I gained four pounds. Within three weeks every sign of neuritis was gone. My digestive and other organs were refreshed, and I am today in the best general health I have had in years."
Konjola is sold in E. Liverpool, O., at Carnahan drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

THREE MEN PAY DEATH PENALTY

"Pants Bandits" Are Executed at Sing Sing.

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Harry Dreitzer, Isadore Helfant and Isreal Fischer, leaders of the notorious "pants bandits" of Brooklyn today had paid with their lives for the slaying of Policeman William Kelly in a Brooklyn hold-up. Game to the end, but protesting that they did not deserve the death penalty, the three were executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison shortly before midnight last night.

Fischer, who remained "hard boiled" to the end, went to the chair smoking a cigar. The others broke down when paid a farewell visit by relatives, but entered the death house smiling.

During an extensive career of hold-ups these "pants bandits" usually removed the trousers of their victims to forestall pursuit.

HE SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief in 2 Months—Doctor Recommended It

Constipation is dreaded not only for its own insidious self, but because of the many serious conditions and diseases it causes. Mr. Lind was a sufferer—but read how he found relief.

"For the past 10 years I have suffered from piles. At times I have been unable to work. I have tried suppositories, ointments, etc., but to no avail.

"Two months ago my grocer called my attention to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I began taking it regularly. Immediately the pain and annoyance from the piles was relieved. I found that it requires very little ALL-BRAN to give nature a fair chance to effect a cure."—WALTER J. LIND, R. 2, Box 157, Appleton, Wis.

Don't neglect constipation. At any time its poisons may take terrible toll from your health and well-being. Protect yourself. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily, or in chronic cases, with every meal. ALL-BRAN brings sure, natural relief. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Also try the recipes on the package. Results guaranteed. Doctors recommend it because it is 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants, and dining cars. Sold by all grocers.

Columbiana county collections of realty and personal taxes and special assessments during the December settlement period will approximate $1,500,000. County Treasurer

Fred George estimated today.
No report has been filed by the these offices are expected within two weeks.

Time limit for paying December taxes expired Monday, although a few checks have been received by mail in the interim. It will probably be a month before the final settlement will be announced. In the meantime, different taxing districts are filing requests for advances, and these are being forwarded.

A detailed statement of the doz-tax collections will be filed with County Auditor E. E. Walker within the next three weeks.

The distribution of automobile license money from the December and January collections will be the largest in recent years, it is said.

"Dirty ring around the washtubs"
is a dangerous sign

It means the clothes aren't snowy white. It means there's dirt in them.
It means scum forms when you put soap in the water. And that means you're using hard water. Scum always forms in hard water.

What to do? Soften the water with Melo and it is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. No dirty ring forms. The clothes wash snowy white.
Delightful suds. And you use only 1/3 or 1/2 the amount of soap ordinarily used in hard water. Get rid of that dirty ring! Get rid of it by buying and using Melo. Get Melo at your grocer's.

VANGUARD

A Highly Amusing Story of a Romance
Aboard a Millionaire's Yacht.

By Arnold Bennett

He had the sense to understand that the changes occurring in his prim, sedate, unromantic, married, fatherly soul were terrible. But he gloried in their terrible, while fearing it. He felt that he had just begun to live, and that, until that moment, he had never lived. He sympathized with, admired, and comprehended men who had ruined their careers for the sake of a woman—men such as General Boulanger and Charles Stewart Parnell, whom, hitherto, he had frigidly despised as weakling voluptuaries.

Yes, in one of his minds Mr. Sutherland was alarmed, and in another he was gloriously ecstatic. And the entire business was astounding in the highest degree, and most probably nothing comparable to it had ever come to pass in any floating engine room before.

The engine continued lazily to revolve and slide its parts, as if dozing.

"And how come you to know about the organizing of big dinners?" Septimius inquired, with an effort toward archness.

"Oh!" answered Harriet vaguely. "Mother * * * The old days."

The single word "mother" reassured Mr. Sutherland. (Not that he would have admitted that in any point he needed reassurance concerning Harriet Perkins!) She came, then, of good family, family used to lavish hospitalities, solid family. They talked about organization, a subject which seemed to interest Harriet as much as it interested Septimius. Septimius always talked very well on this his favorite subject, and Harriet listened admirably and stimulatingly. They talked for ages and eons. Gone from Mr. Sutherland's mind was all thought of exploring the mysteries of the yacht! Gone also, apparently, from Harriet's mind! Mr. Sutherland saw that, despite her energy and initiative and independence, she was one of those delightful, acquiescent women * * * He had shown a wish to discuss organization, and she had willingly concurred.

The middle-aged man, with the face that had so appealed to Harriet Perkins, came scurrying violently down the steel ladder from above, and he was followed by another and younger officer at similar speed. They both stood by. Two greasers also appeared. Mr. Sutherland and Miss Perkins, their talk thus brought to a sudden halt, both had the feeling that the moment was big with great events. They were not mistaken. A bell rang out loudly and imperatively within a yard or so of their ears. A steel arrow moved by itself on an indicator and pointed to words which said "Stand by," though the officers were already standing by. The younger officer sprang toward a lever.

"Shall we go back to the deck?" Miss Perkins gently suggested.

"I think we ought to," he answered, with an outward calm at least equaling her own.

They hastened up the steel ladders; Miss Perkins again took the lead. But now the steel gate, which had been open when they went down, was shut, and also it was fastened. Mr. Sutherland shook it, and Miss Perkins shook it; and they both tried hard to manipulate the bolt; but the gate was obstinate.

"Caught!" exclaimed Mr. Sutherland, but soundlessly—in his heart. Nevertheless his faith in Harriet Perkins was not a bit diminished. They heard, far below, the renewed summoning of the automatic bell. Then there was some enervating change in the character: sound of the engine, and a moment later the whole ship began to throb and shake in earnest. Then a deck-hand appeared in the darkness of the corridor. He produced a key of some sort and unfastened the gate, and Mr. Sutherland and Miss Perkins had the freedom of the corridor. They emerged excitedly, like a couple of children on the main deck. They saw, over the rail, a huge form rising on ropes out of the water.

It was the starboard launch. It vanished above their heads, being swung in onto the boat deck. Through the windows of a deckhouse they saw the port launch similarly treated.

"The others have all gone back," said Septimius.

"Looks like it," said Harriet. "See the bedroom windows lighted in the hotel."

And in fact many windows were now gleaming in the facade of the Splendide, "de across the water."

"We're left behind," said Septimius.

Harriet shrugged her shoulders.

"Why do I make these idiotic remarks?" Septimius asked himself. "Obviously we're left behind."

"Oh!" murmured Harriet. "In the confusion * * * Two launches. * * * The people in one launch would think we were in the other."

"Quite! But those engineer fellows might have told us."

"None of their business," said Harriet.

"She's moving!"

"Still—But she's moving!" cried Septimius.

"I do believe she is," Harriet agreed.

"But we must have heard the anchor chains. We couldn't possibly not have heard them," Septimius protested.

"Perhaps she wasn't anchored at all," said Harriet.

"Perhaps she was only moored to one of those buoy things that you see in harbors. Then she'd only have to slip a rope hawser or whatever they call it, and off she'd go."

Septimius, silent and corrected, remembered with shame the superiority of his tone in giving marine explanations to the old lady in the dining saloon.

"But this is simply awful!" observed Harriet, though her tone seemed to be saying that it was the greatest lark conceivable.

"It is!" Septimius concurred. "We must get the yacht stopped instantly, and be put ashore—somehow." But in his tone there was no apparent eagerness for such a course of action.

Nevertheless, he led the way aft along the deck, Harriet following. A door stood ajar, showing the faintly interior of a cabin. Septimius paused—he knew not why—at the doorway and looked within. Harriet glanced over his shoulder. Lying on the floor of the cabin were a flat American trunk, a suitcase and a rug, which so remarkably resembled Septimius' trunk, suitcase, and rug that he was moved to examine them. They were indeed his trunk and suitcase, duly labeled in his own City hand for London via Rome, Paris and Calais; and the rug was his rug.

The presence of those three articles in the dim, rich cabin appeared magical to Septimius; but the magic of it was most sinister, and it illustrated the instability and insecurity of society far more frighteningly than the strike at the Hotel Splendide. Mr. Sutherland saw that he must maintain his nerve, and he did maintain it. He said no word, and Harriet said no word either. But then Harriet, not being acquainted with the aspect of Septimius' luggage, perhaps had not his reasons for amazement.

"Somebody else can organize, too!" thought Septimius generously.

The strange thing was that he was not furious with resentment against the mysterious and unspeakable Count Veruda. For the count's machinations, whatever their aim, had at any rate secured to him for a time the enchanting society of Miss Perkins. This detail presented itself to Septimius as more important than anything else.

Returning to the rail, Septimius and Harriet saw very clearly the whitening wake of the yacht under the Neapolitan moon. The Vanguard was unquestionably gathering speed. She must be making for either Capri or the open Mediterranean. The motion of bringing to a standstill the mighty and resistless movement of the great vessel became preposterous to Septimius, and he gave it up. Besides, none of the crew seemed to be about. All the navigation was being conducted from the unseen boatdeck over ad.

"Miss Perkins, please!" called a respectful voice from somewhere; not the voice of Count Veruda.

Harriet started and then without a word to Septimius walked off and disappeared round the after end of the deckhouse. Mr. Sutherland was alone.

Lying Down.

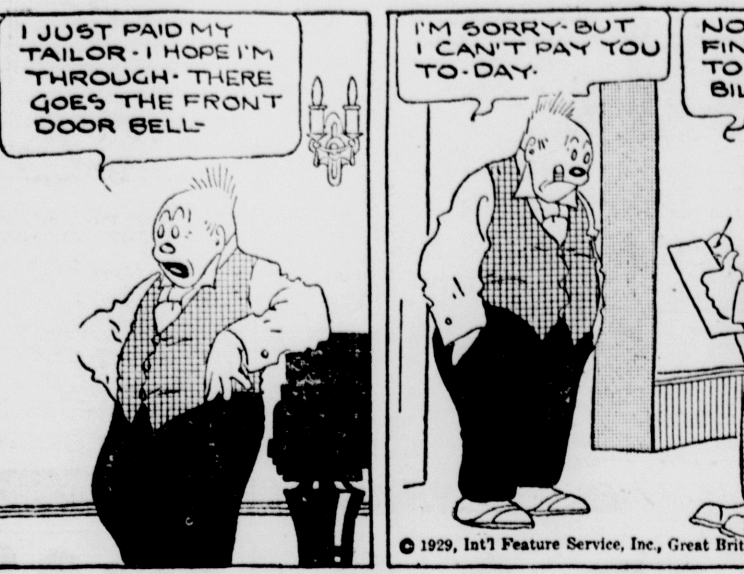

Mr. Sutherland walked about the deck; he made a complete circuit of the dark, deserted deckchairs, and met nobody save one deckhand, who ignored him, and whom, from pride, he ignored, though he was hungering for information on a number of important points. He could not see the masthead navigating lights because of the intervening upperdeck. But forward, he saw the green and the red glare of the starboard and port navigating lights, and they seemed to throw a baneful illumination upon the vast, vibrating, silent organism of the moving yacht. Never had Mr. Sutherland been caged in an environment so uncanny and oppressive.

"SUNRISE" ENDS RUN SATURDAY

"Sunrise" closes its engagement at the Ceramic theater tomorrow night. Spectors have come away from the playhouse deeply impressed with the picture, which was made in the Fox Studios by F. W. Murnau. The celebrated European director. The powerful story in "Sunrise," its astonishing camera effects and its unusual score make it one of the most entertaining pictures ever shown here.

It tells a simple tale of a peasant who heeds the song of a city siren and becomes a puppet in her hands to a point where he is willing to drown his wife in order to free himself for the other woman. Almost equally engrossing is his later recovery of himself, his reconciliation with his wife and their joyous celebration in an amusement park.

George O'Brien and Janet Gaynor do themselves proud in the principal roles. O'Brien reveals a command of the drama which few suspected he had and Miss Gaynor surpassing the unforgettable work she did in "7th Heaven."

"MY MAN" SONG FILM HIT BASIS

How decidedly a sensational hit may affect the earning power of a theatrical performer is well illustrated by the experience of Fannie Brice, America's favorite singing comedienne who is making her motion picture debut as the star of Warner Bros. Vitaphone production, "My Man," now showing at the American theater.

For several years Miss Brice had been featured in Ziegfeld's "Follies," and her salary had assumed proportions that made it look large on the weekly payroll.

Then she first sang "My Man." To say that its success was tremendous is but to put it mildly. The song literally swept the country, and the singer was acclaimed as an artist of remarkable emotional power, who was able to extract every ounce of feeling in the tragic lines. Famous stage producers made bids for her services.

The result was that, though she remained with the "Follies" the next season, her salary was three and one-half times the amount it had been the year before.

In Miss Brice's first film, "My Man," her famous rendition of the song is heard on the Vitaphone in all the vigor and pathos of the original, and the play is built around it.

KEATON CLICKS IN FAST COMEDY

"Moving pictures must move." This seems to be the theory on which Buster Keaton made "The Cameraman," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer laugh-producer now being shown at the State theater. For move it does—with a rapid-fire rate that crowds one hilarious scene upon the other and one comical predicament on the next hilarious misadventure with a celerity that keeps the audience fairly gasping for enough breath for laughs to keep up with it.

Which, after all, is the ideal object of a screen comedy. The story opens with a bang—that is, Buster gets banged of course. He's peacefully making tinctures when half of New York walks over him, and then he gets all mixed up with the tripods of the newsreel cameras well-known to Lindbergh or similar distinguished and popular hero. This gives him the idea he wants to be a newsreel cameraman, so he buys an ancient and decrepit instrument and starts out to ensnare news.

He drops off a four story building into the bullets of a long war fought with machine guns in Chinatown; he falls off a launch and fouls its propeller during a boat race; he saves the heroine and gets the greatest newsreel picture of the day by accident—and altogether is as busy as the proverbial one-armed paperhanger with the hives.

Scotland has a woman of the hounds in Mrs. Jack Coats, mother if a baby.

French people are just becoming enthusiastic over the radio.

CECIL MOUNTS HIS STEPLADDER TO LOOK FOR FIRST-RATE BEAUTY

By David P. Senner.
(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service.)
NEW YORK.—Three tuts in a row—Cecil Beaton, from dear old London, cannot discover a first-rate beauty over here.
"As an average, American women are more beautiful but individually, British women have it all over American women for pulchritude," said Cecil, with a graceful gesture.
"From the neck down, American girls are gorgeous but from the neck up, literally speaking, give me English women. Where is there anyone over here to compare with Lady Diana Cooper, for instance?"

Of course Cecil, an aesthetic lad of 23, has nothing to assist him in his quest for beauty but a cheap camera, a tripod, a rickety step ladder, a pair of polka dotted trousers and an education at Harrow.
Cecil was all the rage in English society and the most famous people begged to sit for him. Cecil paints but he prefers to photograph. His is no mean camera work, his is a cubist art wherein he merges the background into the personality of his subject.

"I photograph my subjects from all angles and any position," Cecil asserted. "Sometimes I take them from the top of my stepladder and sometimes I lay on my back. Often I take them through a set of mirrors."
"Isn't it difficult to think up new ways of taking people?" I inquired shrewdly.
"I am glad you admire my methods," said Cecil modestly.

I scanned Cecil's hotel room as I racked my brain for a fancy question. I noted a pile of ray-colored gew-gaws, such as you would hang on a Christmas tree, heaped in a fruit dish by his side.

"Why?" I asked pointing.
"American hotel rooms are so alike," Cecil explained. "I decided to brighten things up and at the same time make my abode distinctive."

Cecil is exhibiting his paintings and photographs. He took me over to the Fifth Avenue gallery. There were the Misses Zita and Teresa Jungman imaged horizontally head to head, eyes closed, looking very pretty. And Edith Sitwell, English poetess, pictured flat on her back against a checker carpet (or was it linoleum). She was blanketed with leaves and looked for all the world like a beautiful mummy.

And duchesses, ladies, a queen and other notorious persons were taken in trios, duos and singletons. But the favorite touch with the cluster picture, like a starfish with square shoulders.

"What do you think of my exhibit?" asked Cecil.

"They move one so—why not call them moving pictures?" I said, attempting to chat like one English society man to another.

"I am SO glad you like them," said Cecil, beaming like one of his ping ladies in a blue sash.

"Do you want to be quoted as not being able to find any beautiful women in America?" I warned him.

"Now, don't exaggerate, like a good fellow," said Cecil. "It's a ripping good press piece, isn't it, my not finding any beautiful over here. But mind you, I said as an average your women were more beautiful but not first rate beauties like our."

Mothers! Avoid Too Much Dosing For Influenza

It May Upset Digestion And Thus Still Further Lower The Body Resistance.

According to health authorities, a peculiarity of influenza is that its toxins upset the digestive system, especially in the case of children. Too much "dosing" still further disturbs the digestion, and should be avoided except on advice of a physician.

Vicks VapoRub is especially valuable because it is applied externally and so can be used freely with no risk of upsetting the digestion, nor can it interfere with any other treatment your doctor may prescribe.

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus trouble, or pneumonia. Heed even the slightest cold as a danger-signal and treat it promptly—without "dosing." Just rub Vicks on throat and chest at bedtime.—Adv.

From the banks of the Mississippi came Chief Awa-ton-na to tell of the miracles wrought by nature in curing all kinds of human ailments by the use of herbs, roots and barks. It is after him that this great Indian Herb Tonic is named.

Starting today every man and woman who has the good fortune to live in this town, will have the opportunity of learning about the use of that good old Indian tonic for many of the most common conditions people suffer with.

In an interview for readers of this paper, the laboratory representative at Carnahan's stated: "Owa-ton-na has had marvelous success in cases of disorders of the digestive system, such as constipation, gas, bloating, indigestion, cramps, heartburn, acidity, bad breath, sleeplessness, kidney and bladder weakness such as backaches, dizzy spells, frequent elimination, scalding sensation, rheumatic aches, tired, worn-out feeling, nervousness, malnutrition. No matter how bad your case, how long you have been suffering, or what has failed to give you results, you owe it to yourself to find out about Owa-ton-na."

"Every testimonial printed" is signed and witnessed. Our files are open to any one desiring to examine same for verification."

"OWA-TON-NA SURELY A BLESSING TO ME", SAYS LOCAL MAN

Years of Kidney and Stomach Misery Ended in a Short Time By the Use of This Fine Old Indian Remedy.

Mr. E. C. FREITAG
Recommends Owa-Ton-Na to his many friends

Owa-Ton-Na does not confine its results to cases of mild nature but even in cases of long standing, complicated as they may seem even after many expensive treatments had been tried without avail, yield to this simple harmless remedy. It is not claimed that Owa-Ton-Na performs miracles nor that it is a cure-all, it simply acts as an aid in the elimination of harmful poisons, toning the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal tract, thereby giving nature an opportunity to recoup the normal action of these important organs.

Even though Owa-Ton-Na has been introduced in East Liverpool but a short time, hundreds of enthusiastic people tell of its benefits. Among them is Mr. R. C. Anderson, who resides at 1706 Oakland Ave., this city. Mr. Anderson who is a barber at the Travelers' hotel says, "For 9 years have been suffering with indigestion and kidney trouble. Sometimes quite severely."

"I have used medicine after medicine and nothing seemed to do me any good. I had no appetite and when I would eat, food didn't seem to agree with me. I would have terrible attacks of gas and sourness. I was always constipated and just seemed to be getting worse all the time. My kidneys were in terrible condition. The backaches I would have made it hard for me to keep at my work. Sometimes it seemed that I couldn't straighten out. Several times each night I was forced to get up to relieve bladder irritation. This kept me from getting a good night's sleep."

"Headaches and dizzy spells almost drove me crazy. I have tried many expensive treatments to relieve this condition but without results. I had got to the point where I was disgust-nose and a sea-green eye passed by. She was chewing gum and smiled at Cecil.

"Pardon me," said Cecil, as he left me in front of a cubistic cloud of dust.

Firemen Break Windows in Famed German Edifice

HEIDELBERG.—Some of the valuable windows in the old Holy Ghost church in Heidelberg had to be broken by firemen who were extinguishing a fire that had broken out in the building.
It was in this church that the Heidelberg University, the oldest university in Germany, and the second oldest in Europe, was founded in 1386.

WABASH, Ind.—Patty, a small wire-haired terrier owned by Dr. and Mrs. Fred Bent was the proudest dog in Wabash today. She has a silver tooth!
The pup whimpered for several days, suffering from a toothache. So Dr. Bent, a dentist, took the dog to his office where an examination disclosed a cavity in the pup's tooth.
The dentist filled the tooth with silver.

CHIEF OWA-TON-NA

SOUND REFRESHING SLEEP FOUND AT LAST

Local Lady Who Had Not Had a Good Night's Sleep For 30 Years, Enjoys Deep Rich Slumber After Taking Owa-Ton-Na Two Weeks.

Results from Owa-Ton-Na, the Indian Discovery of Herbs, roots and barks are in some cases so remarkable that they are almost unbelievable, but every case is on file open for inspection by any one. Each one a separate story in itself of the good that can be accomplished by the use of this remedy. Were it possible for one to meet all these hearty endorsers, one would find that they come from all walks of life—rich and poor, lowly and exalted. Each apparently have their own story to tell of long suffering endured.

For exactly 31 years, Mrs. Fack who resides at 1018 Sylvania St. N.E., has had her sleep disturbed by stomach distress and kidney weakness. She had used all kinds of medicines and treatments and spent many, many dollars seeking relief. Her knees and joints were aching, her back pained her something awful at times. Constipation, headaches and sour, belching spells seemed to be her daily companions.

She says, "I was in such a worn-out condition that it is a wonder that I was ever able to do a stroke of work. One thing I particularly noted was that I could not lay on my left side because the distress was so great, I could not bear it. The most remarkable thing happened after I had taken Owa-Ton-Na about two weeks. Two nights in succession I had slept soundly just the same as I did when I was a little girl, and when I woke in the morning, I found myself lying on my left side. I took particular note of this because it had been so long since I was able to do this."

"I was told my distress came from gall bladder trouble, liver trouble and many other disorders but I know that whatever it was, Owa-Ton-Na has removed. I am no longer constipated, by headaches have stopped, my appetite is fine and I have no more bad breath. I never feel worn-out nor am I troubled any more with dizzy spells, and at all I sleep right through the night as peacefully and as restfully as a little child. Owa-Ton-Na has done wonders for me and I certainly will recommend it to all sufferers. I will be glad to tell anyone personally about the result I have had."

MRS. MARGARET BOWERS
Stomach, Liver and Gall Troubles Soon Vanish
Popular Wheeling Society Matron Recommends Owa-Ton-Na.

Mrs. Margaret Bowers, 1031 Main street, Wheeling, W. Va., and leader of many Wheeling popular social functions says, "I have never before allowed my name to be used to endorse any preparation but were I to refuse to endorse Owa-Ton-Na after the remarkable results I have had from its use, I would not be doing myself justice. Five years of stomach, and liver trouble had been a terrible drain on my system. I had tried many different things for relief and spent a great deal of money without results."

"I had got to the point where my system was completely run-down. Gas and bloating spells and severe gall bladder attacks kept me miserable. What Owa-Ton-Na has done for me is almost impossible to tell in words but I feel sure that anyone giving this medicine a fair trial, will be wonderfully benefited."

"We want every man and woman who feels the need of a real tonic, to come in and sample Owa-Ton-Na. Take home a large bottle and give it an honest trial. You be the judge. Every penny paid for it will be refunded if our claims are not just so. "Your health is too precious to take chances with. Do not wait until it is too late for Nature to rebuild your body. KEEPING FIT BEST PREVENTIVE FOR FLU

After The Flu Take This Systemic To Aid in The Elimination Of The Ravages And Waste Of Disease.

In time of epidemics we definitely realize how important perfect body function is in every day life. People who readily contract colds which lead into grippe, flu and even worse, suffer the penalty for past negligence in the care of health. Keep the body up to par. Good elimination is probably nature's most important demand.

Proper functioning of the liver, kidneys and intestinal tract are probably the most important means of good elimination. When the liver becomes sluggish it must neglect some of its all-important work of neutralizing poisonous toxins in the blood. This tends to throw an additional load on the kidneys, also a sluggishness of elimination in the intestinal tract.

Thousands of cases testify to the value of Owa-Ton-Na in promoting a normal function of the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal tract. Owa-Ton-Na acts as a gentle tonic to these organs, thus aiding in the normal elimination of harmful poisons which tend to accumulate in the body.

Owa-Ton-Na will be found an invaluable aid in removing harmful poisons from the body after the flu, grippe or severe colds. It will aid nature in restoring normal function of the stomach, liver and kidneys, thus insuring proper assimilation of food which results in a speedy regaining of normal strength and return to normal health.

Hazel A. Hall, prominent New York nurse, who endorses Owa-Ton-Na as one of the best remedies that has ever come to her attention. She has had opportunity to interview thousands of people who have used this remedy with success and says, "I feel satisfied that the result of its use are better than any single remedy I have ever come in contact with. What makes it more valuable is that it does not contain harmful dangerous drugs."

SHOWS CHRIST AS LAWYER FOR SINNER CLIENT

Rev. W. H. Baker in Pulpit of Church of Christ.

APPEALING SONGS

"Sowing and Reaping" Tonight's Sermon Topic.

With fine spirit prevailing the Rev. W. H. Baker discussed the three appearances of Christ at the revival in the First Church of Christ last night. He stressed this trinity of viewpoint as necessary on the part of every one holding himself to be a Christian.

Under the direction of H. C. Blard, of Ponteau, Okla., with Mrs. Blard acting as accompanist, a fine service of song preceded the discourse.

Mr. Blard sang: "My Lord and I," and Mr. and Mrs. George Esenhuth "Calvary." Both numbers strongly appealed.

Though he has not fully decided, it is possible that the Rev. Mr. Baker's theme tonight will be "Sowing and Reaping."

Appearances of Christ. "Christ came on earth the first time to put away sin," declared the Rev. Mr. Baker. "To this end He lived sinlessly while on earth and died on the cross for mankind."

"Now, following His resurrection, He has ascended to heaven where, at the right hand of God, He is the representative of those looking to Him at the courts of heaven. He is now approximately what the best lawyer one can procure is to us when we as clients have to go to court."

"Then there is the third appearance of Christ to which all Christians are looking forward—His coming again. This is what is known as the Second Coming of the Christ."

The revivalist explained that for purposes of the present discourse he had noted Christ's presence in heaven as the advocate of sinners as His second appearance.

Wonder of Atonement. He indicated the wonder of the atonement by which in His initial coming it was possible to nullify sin in the individual soul.

With the atonement consummated he pointed out the need for an Intercessor at the court of heaven in behalf of Christians.

And finally there is to be the coming of the Christ in the clouds to claim His own and judge those remaining as sinners.

"We secure the best lawyer possible to represent us in any legal controversy," he said, "but none so procured can be compared with Him who functions as the Advocate who does so for Christians in heaven."

Rev. Mr. Baker referred to the mystery of the atonement and the depth of love involved which in its finality none with finite minds can altogether grasp or comprehend.

150 to Pay $60,000 Bexley Church Debt

Dedicatory Week Services in Dr. Frank G. Fowler's $380,000 Edifice Will Close Next Sunday.

One hundred and fifty new members will pay a $60,000 debt on the new $380,000 Bexley Methodist Episcopal church at Columbus, of which the Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., formerly of East Liverpool, is pastor, when they are enrolled next Sunday. The dedicatory week ceremonies will end Sunday. The program began last Sunday when the dedicatory sermon was delivered by Bishop Theodore Henderson, Cincinnati. Except for the $60,000, which the new members have pledged, the church is free of debt.

Bishop Preaches Sermon. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Bishop William Anderson, of Boston, long the head of the Cincinnati area which comprises Ohio and part of Indiana. In this capacity he often visited East Liverpool and once held services in the M. E. tabernacle on the City lot while the new building was being erected. Representing East Liverpool at the Sunday dedication of the Bexley church were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keyes of this city and Will T. Blake, state director of industrial relations. Former Local Pastors in Capital. The event also emphasized the fact that Capital City churches now have as pastors three former ministers in East Liverpool, the Rev. Dr. Fowler and the Rev. Dr. Isaac Miller, both of the First M. E. church, and the Rev. Harry Cotton, who served the First Presbyterian and Curry Memorial chapel a few years ago. The latter has recently succeeded the famed Rev. Dr. Palmer as head of the Broad street Presbyterian church. Of the total sum for the new Columbus church one of its members has already paid $13,500.
